

We carefully cut out the shape of felt after we had pinned the template onto the fabric.

We had to be careful because the scissors were sharp!

We pinned the template to the felt and then drew round the shape with chalk.

We had to match the two pieces of felt together and sew them carefully.

We cut out pieces of felt for our design and glued them onto the felt.

Threading the needle was really tricky.

Take a look at the bunting in the classroom.

We considered ways of joining the felt together.

Stapling was too difficult as the felt was thick.

Gluing the felt together did not work either because the felt kept coming apart.

Sellotape was not strong enough either because it could not hold the felt together.

Finally we decided we should sew the two pieces together.
